Leadership Meetings Begin Final Week

The second week of Leadership Conferences and Brotherhood Rallies came to a successful close on Friday at Ackerman with interest and attendance continuing to run high.

The final week's schedule of Leadership Conferences will be held next week, beginning Monday, February 4, at Terry. Tuesday's meeting will be at Meadville, Wednesday the scene will shift to Prentiss, Thursday's sessions will be at Petal-Harvey with the final meeting Friday at Lucedale.

The conferences are sponsored by the State Convention Board and under general direction of Rev. Chester Quarles, Executive Secretary. Others to appear on program the last week include:

Dr. C. E. Wilbanks, Dr. A. L. Goodrich, Rev. Joe Abrams, Rev. Martin J. Gilbert and W. R. Roberts, all of Jackson; Dr. J. O. Williams, Secretary of Promotion and Education, Sunday School Board, Nashville; Rev. John W. Wells, Field Secretary, Department of Cooperative Missions, Home Mission Board, Atlanta; and J. A. Pennington, Brotherhood Secretary of Oklahoma, Oklahoma City.

The conferences begin at 9:45 a. m., and close at 9 p. m., with three sessions—morning, afternoon, and night—held daily. The evening session is designed primarily for laymen and is sponsored by the State Brotherhood Department.

A program featuring missions, stewardship, publicity, evangelism and Brotherhood is presented each day.

Martin Named Head Of Moderators And Clerks Association

Rev. Robert Martin of Batesville, was re-elected president of the Mississippi Moderators and Clerks Association at its annual meeting Tuesday of this week at the Baptist Building.

Other officers re-elected were: B. Murphree of Pittsboro, vice-president; and Rev. E. D. Estes of Louisville, secretary.

The morning session was opened with a devotional led by Rev. M. D. Morton, pastor of the Crystal Springs church. Dr. W. P. Davis pastor of First Church, Flora, led in a group discussion of "The Organization and Work of the Executive Committee."

The session was closed with a discussion of "The Association's Constitution." The afternoon period opened with a devotional by A. G. Shepherd, layman, of Houston, followed by the election of officers.

The day's program closed with two simultaneous conferences. The one for moderators was led by Rev. Rowe Holcomb, pastor of Hazlehurst Church, on "Parliamentary Law." The other, for clerks, was conducted by Rev. George Gay, pastor of Ripley Church, on the subject "The Preparation of Associational Minutes."

E. L. Herring of Jackson and Wilkerson Mangrum of Mendenhall were named to serve with the officers as the program committee.

Barron Contributes To Foundation Fund

J. N. BARRON

J. N. Barron, (above), of Crystal Springs, trustee of the Mississippi Baptist Foundation and member of its executive committee, has given $1,000 to Mississippi College endowment. Others making recent contributions to endowment funds are: Will M. Whittington, Greenwood, $1,000; Dudley White, Jackson, $1,000; J. E. Maxwell, Pickens, $500; John Yarbrough, Pickens, $500; and Mr. and Mrs. Don Baker, Leland, $3,000.

There are many other commitments as our Foundation moves on toward the million dollar goal for the endowment funds of our institutions. Any size gift will be accepted from individuals or churches.

Group Tries To Stop Nashville Freedom Rally

NASHVILLE, Tenn.—(BP)—Governor Gordon Browning has been strongly pressed by a group led by H. Frank Taylor, leading Tennessee legislator, to cancel an agreement with Nashville protestants leasing the War Memorial Auditorium for a Religious Freedom Rally, February 1, at which Paul Blanshard is to be principal speaker.

The group argued that Blanshard's address will desecrate the memory of Catholic boys among those for whom the auditorium was established as a memorial. The governor tried to get the protestants to relinquish the contract.

Rev. J. Harold Stephens, pastor of the Inglewood Baptist Church in Nashville, replied to the governor that the Catholic objection was no more valid than a possible objection from Republicans saying that the inauguration of a Democratic governor in the hall would desecrate the memory of the Republican boys memorialized there.

WASHINGTON, D. C.—(RNS)—President Truman said here that he does not intend to send a personal representative to the Vatican.

Asked by newsmen at his weekly press conference if reports are true that he may send a personal envoy in the wake of his withdrawal of the nomination of Gen. Mark W. Clark to be ambassador to the Holy See, Mr. Truman said emphatically that he does not expect to do so.

Making the observation that he does not usually back up when he starts out to do things, the President said he is going to send the Senate another nominee with the rank of ambassador.

The Senate will have to assume its responsibility in the matter when he sends up a new nomination, Mr. Truman said.

A personal envoy, with a status such as that which Myron C. Taylor had for nearly a decade, does not require Senate confirmation.

The President's announcement came at a time when it was estimated on Capitol Hill that more than 10,000 letters and telegrams daily are being received by members of Congress on the subject of the Vatican nomination, virtually all in opposition to it.

Representatives from several Southern states report that the mail is the heaviest they have had on any issue in recent years.

V. B. S. Clinic Has Record Attendance

The largest attendance on record was present for the annual State Vacation Bible School held last week at the First Church in Kosciusko.

Thirty-two Associations were represented with 108 registered from outside the host church. Total registrants reached 160. Those attending included Associational Missionaries and officers, pastors and Sunday School workers.

All phases of Vacation Bible School work were discussed during the three-day clinic, with plans being projected to improve the quality of schools to be held this year as well as to increase the number of such schools.

The Clinic was sponsored by the State Sunday School Department and held under direction of Dr. E. C. Williams, Secretary. Others having parts on program were: Sibley C. Burnett, of Nashville, Associate in the Vacation Bible School Department of the Baptist Sunday School Board; Paul Boothe, Associate State Sunday School Secretary; and Miss Carolyn Madison, Elementary Secretary of the State Sunday School Department.

Dr. Williams reported that last year 1138 Vacation Bible Schools were held in Mississippi, the largest number on record, with enrollment in these schools passing the 100,000 mark for the first time.

Christians Should be in Politics

Editor's Note: While in Chicago last week attending the Evangelistic Press Association we had an interview with Congressman O. K. Armstrong. Space prevents a full report but some of the main topics are discussed below.

"Christians in politics would mean better government," says O. K. Armstrong, Missouri's sixth district congressman.

"No official can be elected," he said, "without the votes of many of our good people." He feels that much bad legislation would be defeated and much good legislation enacted if large numbers of Christian people were as active before enactment as they are after.

A return to righteous principles is a crying need of the day. The present wave of corruption is a result of a previous cause. "Christian complacency has made it easy for dishonesty to creep in," said Mr. Armstrong.

Many senators and congressmen are devout Christians and seek divine guidance. He cited the fact that a group of senators meet weekly for breakfast and prayer. A similar meeting is held by representatives.

It is his opinion that members of the Congress are greatly influenced by letters and other communications from their constituents. Because of this influence he urged that Christian people make their desires known to government officials.

"There are more good people than bad," he said. But he called attention to the fact that too often the good people say and do little or nothing concerning bad legislation while the other crowd brings every influence to bear.

A newly-elected member of Congress, Mr. Armstrong is a devout Christian. The son of a pioneer preacher of the Ozarks, he started attending Sunday School when only a few weeks old. Converted at an early age, he began to teach a Sunday School class two years later and has been at it ever since. He is a member of Calvary Baptist Church in Washington and teaches its Vaughn Sunday School class, the oldest men's class in America.

Congressman Armstrong says that our greatest political need is to get back to Christian principles. "Those who believe in God," he said, "should stand up and say so."

It is his opinion that Christian people have a responsibility not only to promote good government but to actively oppose bad measures and activities.

It is the opinion of Mr. Armstrong that Christian leaders should speak out on matters before Congress. "A like responsibility," he said, "rests upon individuals."

Christians Should Be . . .

vidual Christians. They should also exert every possible influence for good."

Looking into the future Mr. Armstrong cited the good work of Sunday schools and their influence upon our future citizens. "Sunday school pupils," he asserted, "are not in court. The Sunday school is so important that it cannot be measured."

He also urged family altars as an influence for good. And he is a "doer of the word," having established a family altar in his own home.

Mr. Armstrong showed how persistent Christian effort could influence not only our own government but even the United Nations. He was a member of a committee to urge that a prayer room be provided in the new United Nations headquarters building in New York. They were rebuffed time and again. The excuse was that some UN members did not believe in prayer.

But the committee noticed that several rooms throughout the building had been provided for the dispensing of alcoholic liquors. Mr. Armstrong's committee called attention to the fact that many UN members didn't believe in alcoholic drinks. They asked why the rule didn't apply both ways. The UN committee saw the point and provided the prayer room.

"More Christians taking an active interest in government," says Mr. Armstrong, "would mean better government."

First Church, Kosciusko, To Dedicate Organ

Shown above is the recently completed sanctuary of the First Baptist Church of Kosciusko. Rev. A. B. Pierce is pastor.

The First Baptist Church of Kosciusko will dedicate its newly installed pipe organ Sunday, February 3 at 3:00 p. m. The program will feature Professor Cochrane Penick of MSCW in the initial organ recital.

The instrument will be the finest that Kosciusko has had the privilege of hearing. The console was custom built to fit the motif of the recently completed sanctuary.

Recently the magnificent new $300,000 sanctuary was completed and dedicated.

Attendance goals of 1,000 in Sunday School, 300 in Training Union and 50 in Brotherhood were all exceeded. And on dedication day, a love offering of more than $10,000 was made.

At the first evening service held in the new church, Rev. A. B. Pierce, pastor, baptized seven in the white-tiled baptism, enclosed in glass and elevated above the chancel and choir loft so that the entire congregation may have a clear view of the proceedings.

The sanctuary is of the latest design with every modern convenience. Many have complimented the interior decorations and furnishings as well as the beautiful art glass windows.

The three story educational plant contains 86 rooms and will take care of 1200. There are facilities for serving meals to as many as 500 at one time, five nurseries and a chapel seating 350. The top story provides a large space for recreation and games.

COOP. PROGRAM CHARTS TO BE DISTRIBUTED SOON

The Cooperative Program Dollar Percentage Charts, which are issued annually by the State Convention Board office, are now in the hands of the printers and will be ready for distribution within a few days.

These charts are for 1952 and will portray the Division of the Cooperative Program dollar that is sent from the churches to the State Convention Board Office, Box 530, Jackson.

The breakdown on the chart is complete, showing every cause that is supported by the Cooperative Program, both State and Worldwide, and the amount it

Mississippi Featured In "Baptist Program"

Two feature articles in the current issue of The Baptist Program will be of special interest to Mississippians. The Program is a monthly magazine published by the Executive Committee of the Southern Baptist Convention for pastors and other denominational leaders.

On page three is a full-page feature article, accompanied by a picture, titled "The Mississippi Press." The article concerns the program of newspaper publicity now being maintained by the Director of Promotion of the Convention Board.

The picture is an action snapshot of Rev. Joe Abrams, the Director, and Rev. Chester Quarles, Executive Secretary, under whose leadership the program was started last Summer.

On page 19 is an article titled "Church Members' Handbook" which gives the story behind the booklet by the same name the author of which is Dr. Joe T. Odle, pastor of First Church of Gulfport.

This booklet is designed primarily for the instruction of new members but is used in many ways. The Sunday School Board has published 365,000 copies to date.

A Golden Opportunity

Obviously many pastors over the state are missing a golden opportunity in not being enrolled in the Ministers' Retirement Plan of the Southern Baptist Convention.

Figures released by the Relief and Annuity Board in Dallas reveal that there are 611 pastors in the state covered, leaving about 500 not participating.

The Ministers' Retirement Plan is an excellent system worked out by the denomination whereby a preacher can retire at 65 with an income for life. The plan is simple, requiring the participant to contribute 3 per cent of his income, the church 3 per cent and the State Board 2 per cent.

The participant's retirement income is based on the time he has been covered and his average income during those years.

The participant cannot lose. If he lives to retirement age he, of course, receives his monthly check for life. If he dies before retirement age, his estate will receive what he has paid plus interest. If he becomes disabled before retirement age he will receive an amount up to $500, depending as before, on his length of coverage and average salary.

The plan has a ceiling however, with $10 per month the maximum amount any minister can contribute. Further information can be obtained by writing to Rev. Chester L. Quarles, Executive Secretary, Box 530, Jackson, Miss.

This plan enables a minister to help prepare for his latter years by making a small monthly contribution. Every preacher ought to be so covered. In addition to ministers all other paid religious workers are eligible.

One Reason for Higher Taxes

One of the many reasons why you are going to pay higher and higher taxes is the fact that the Senate on the last day of the recent session voted to appropriate $4,000,000 for Providence Hospital in Washington, D.C.

This Catholic hospital is a teaching hospital with a special section dedicated to the teaching of nuns, and is to be located for the purpose of affiliation with the Catholic University of America.

According to Dr. J. M. Dawson,

Executive Director of the Baptist Joint Committee on Public Affairs, the bill was written by a Roman Catholic and referred to a Senate Sub-Committee headed by a Roman Catholic.

A news story giving more detailed information about the passage of this bill appeared in a recent issue. Other articles about this bill have appeared in previous issues of The Baptist Record.

We call to your attention the fact that Roman Catholic Hospitals under the Hill-Burton Act have received more than one-sixth of the TOTAL government grants to hospitals of EVERY KIND—municipal, county, state, Federal, and all others.

The passage of the bill to grant aid to the Catholic Providence Hospital means that you and all other Mississippi Baptist taxpayers are going to help build a Catholic hospital in Washington, D.C., that is so far away to be of use to us.

We have no objection to anybody building a hospital in Washington or anywhere else but they should do it, not us.

—BR—

Consistency

We are not saying anything new when we state that Christians should be consistent in their practices. We were reminded of this when we read a news dispatch from Springfield, Ohio in which the question of charitable gambling came up. But read the news dispatch for yourself. It is printed below:

"The commission voted to allow games of chance so long as they are sponsored and operated by 'bona fide, recognized and established charitable, benevolent and other similar non-profit organizations."

"Its move came after half a dozen Protestant ministers arose and told the lawmakers they thought games of chance should not be allowed to operate again.

"The Rev. Harold L. Myers, president of the Clark County Ministerial Association, presented 4,000 signatures on a resolution passed by the association's executive board which set forth its stand against gambling games sponsored by non-profit groups.

"Commissioner Norman W. Saum asked to see the signatures. After leafing through them for a long time, he said:

"I see names on here of those with whom I have personally played poker. I see others who belong to the same bridge club as does my wife. I am not going to be one who says people cannot play bingo then go ahead myself and indulge in any form of gambling I choose."

—BR—

An Opportunity For War Department

The President has signed the Universal Service and Training Bill lowering the draft age to 18 1/2 but requiring local boards to call all available men over 19 before taking any 18 1/2 year olds.

Section 6 of this bill provides "The Secretary of Defense is authorized to make such regulations as he may deem to be appropriate, governing the sale, consumption, possession of or traffic in beer, wine, or any other intoxicating liquors to or by members of the Armed Forces or the National Security Training Corps. Any person, corporation, partnership or association knowingly violating the regulations authorized hereunder shall, unless otherwise punishable under the Uniform Code of Military Justice, be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000, or imprisonment for not more than twelve months, or both."

It gives the Secretary an authority which neither the President, the Secretaries of the Armed Services or any one connected with them has had since the Draft Law of 1917 expired—the right to make regulations governing sale, consumption, possession and traffic in beer, wine and other intoxicating liquors not only in but near camps and other armed services installations.

The Secretary of Defense is General Robert Lovett with an office in the Pentagon, Washington, D. C. General Marshall, former Secretary of Defense, at the opening of World War II, characterized the alcoholic beverage traffic as "a sordid business for the accumulation of money, 'and placed' on the other (hand) the interest of every parent in the United States who has a son in the Army, not to mention the responsibility of the War Department to develop an Army of the highest quality."

It remains to be seen what regulations Mr. Lovett will make.

Our Readers Write

Dear Editor:

I certainly do appreciate the little book which I recently received which gives the dates of all important Baptist events during the year. It also contains much other valuable information.

It represents a lot of work and please tell whoever prepared it that I am thankful and I feel certain that I speak for many others who received one.

A PASTOR.

Comment: The credit for this excellent work is largely due to Student Secretary, Charles W. Horner and Secretary Quarles.

God gives us 24 hours in each day, one-tenth of which is almost two and one-half hours. The nearer I have reached this mark in worshipping our Lord the more spiritual service I find I can render to my family and neighbors.

If we are going to wage a very successful spiritual warfare, we are going to have to go all out for Christ and "put on the whole armor of God". This may call for giving God a period of our time in the early morning hours before dawn. The trial at Gethsemane was a great while before day. A period of communion with our Lord in the early morning hours, I have found, to be the best way to begin my day. And what a rest during the busy day if we only pause for communion with our Lord. Such a rest makes a body a more acceptable dwelling place for the Holy Spirit.

If we make good ambassadors for God, we must rise up and strive to rightly use

God's word which is as a hammer breaking the rocks of our sin if we only wield it. We must not be content with so many idle words, nor shall we sleep on and take our rest while Christ is betrayed into the hands of sinners.

Family worship and also the reading of a verse or more of Bible scripture to my family at mealtime I have found to be an invaluable way, to stamp the abiding spirit of God in our heart.

Children deserve special guidance by parents in studying about God and His love. I read to my youngest child a chapter from God's word each day.

If we seek the Lord during the week our worship will be acceptable on Sunday.

THE ARMY AND "SOCIAL DRINK"

"You know, I never realized until I came into the Army just how much importance is attached to the so-called 'social drink.' It seems that all social functions are built around it, and that sorta leaves me on the outside looking in. Ah my life, I've been associated with boys that drink, but never anything quite like this. I'm at a complete loss as to how to remain on a friendly basis and still abide by my own principles. I've seen so many violations of the way of life that we know—that I've known at school and elsewhere.

If a fellow loses friends because he doesn't drink, then he never had those friends and is better off without them."

BROTHERHOOD DEPARTMENT

Below is a recent letter that was sent to the Brotherhood leadership from Dr. S. B. Platt, Columbus, State Brotherhood president.

Dear Brotherhood Leader:

As president of our State Brotherhood I bring you greetings, and wish for you and your local group a busy and happy 1952. It is my prayer that the Baptist men of Mississippi may be used in an unusual way this year. The forces of evil are rampant, and if they are to be curbed or checked in their activity, it will not be done by law enforcement, beginning with the Governor and the State Legislature and coming down through our local enforcement groups. But it must begin in the hearts of individuals who are right with God themselves, and are willing to be used of Him to win others. Do you believe this? If you do then that puts the proposition squarely up to you and me as laymen. If we are willing to pray and work and be used of God, the impact of our influence will be felt, not only around the world, but even into heaven itself.

We are all busy men and do not feel that we have much time to devote to such activities outside our usual business, but stop and consider two things:

1. Christ always called and used busy men when He wanted a job well done. Peter, Andrew, James and John were busy fishermen when Christ called them. Matthew had a full-time lucrative business when the Master called him.

2. If you could be one of several thousand men in Mississippi, would you be willing to join hands and hearts in earnest and sincere prayer that God would use us, not only in winning average men and women to Him, but that we might have the inspiration and the power to go to the bootleggers and the gamblers in our communities and talk to them as man to man about their personal relationship to God.

This would be no easy task, and is one that should not even be undertaken until the victory has first been won through prayer. But can you envision the power of thousands of men in our state (themselves right with God) on their knees praying for strength to win men to Christ?

Oh men, I challenge you, let's take our Master at His word when he said: "Seek ye first the kingdom of God and His righteousness and all these things will be added unto you." Is anything too hard for God?

Will you join me in earnest prayer that we as Christian laymen may be willing to pay the price of being used of God? If we as leaders get right, that alone would challenge the men to follow, and eternity alone would be able to tell the results. May God our Father richly bless and lead you to "expect great things from God and attempt great things for God."

Sincerely yours,

S. B. PLATT.

CHURCH LOYALTY MONTH

In March we are suggesting that all Baptist churches cooperate in what we shall call Church Loyalty Month. Four things are to be emphasized during that month.

1. Church attendance.
2. Daily Bible reading and prayer.
3. Prayer meeting attendance.
4. Training Union Study Course.

1. Make this an all-out church study course for all age groups. Get all church groups behind the effort.

2. Make detailed plans in the January and February Executive Committee Meetings and monthly officers' councils.

3. Be sure to have the pastor in the very midst of all this planning. Take the plans to the church. Get Church Loyalty Month adopted by the church in business session.

4. Set a date for the study course and sidetrack, cancel or postpone all other Meetings and monthly officers' Councils. special effort to have the Sunday School leadership enlisted in this special, significant week.

5. Select and enlist the best faculty ever engaged for a church study course. By all means use the pastor as one teacher. Provide the faculty with books in ample time for them to make preparation.

6. Enlist a top-notch publicity committee to keep the people aware of what is coming. See that they use radio newspaper, cards, letters, telegrams, telephones, the church bulletin, posters, and announcements in all services of the church. Advance registration cards may also be used as a means of publicity. Ask the pastor to preach one or more sermons in March on the church. Ask departmental leaders in Training Union and Sunday School to use "Church Loyalty" as themes for worship services and to prepare interest centers that will indirectly promote the study course.

7. Appoint a transportation committee. Let them set out to secure transportation to the study course for all who may not have such. In college communities the church may need to provide a bus or cars for the college students. If the church owns a bus, it should be used to bring people to the study course.

8. Set up and give publicity to attendance goals by departments and unions. It would be profitable to set awards goals. This would encourage leaders to promote home study of a book for those who cannot, because of work or illness, attend the church study course.

9. Order necessary books well ahead of date set for study course. Arrange for acceptable distribution of books to church members.

10. Provide competent leaders for Nursery, Beginner, and Primary children during the church study course. Notify all parents with children in these age groups that provision has been made for their children.

11. Stress especially the importance of having every teacher fill out and mail request for awards to the state Training Union office. Attendance will be increased if advance publicity is given to the provision whereby credit is given for full attendance and the reading of the book without examination.

12. The Training Union should be led to plan, organize and execute a visitation effort in behalf of Church Loyalty Month. Let all Training Union members go afield with the enlistment pledge and contact every church member and unaffiliated Baptist. Get the pledges signed and returned to the church. They can then be used to make an advance roll for the study course classes.

The books suggested for March are as follows:

ADULTS

Growing A Church, Burroughs.
Working Together in a Spiritual Democracy, Dobbins.

The New Testament Doctrine of the Church, Turner.

Every Christian's Job, Matthews.

YOUNG PEOPLE

Training in Church Membership, Van Ness.

Training in the Baptist Spirit, Van Ness.

Our Baptist Heritage, Turner.

What We Believe, Boone.

The New Testament Doctrine of the Church, Turner.

Every Christian's Job, Matthews.

INTERMEDIATES

The Meaning of Church Membership, Crawley.

A Faith to Live By, Crawley.

Growing in Bible Knowledge, Graves.

Intermediate Fishers, Burkhalter.

JUNIORS

The Junior and His Church, Roop.

The Junior Baptist, Fusselle.

Living For Jesus, Allen.

This Is My Bible, Van Ness.

Jesus Saves, Allen.

These books, taught by capable teachers and studied by interested, sincere Baptists, will help marvelously to develop church loyalty. We strongly urge that every Baptist be led to study one of these books during the month of March.

Mr. J. Edgar Hoover, of FBI fame, is reported to have said that the only thing wrong with the Sunday Schools is that we do not have enough people in them.

There is no question but that many and rich spiritual blessings do come to those who do attend Sunday School. We are far from reaching all the people we should reach.

Therefore, let us renew our efforts this year in the all-important part of reaching more people for Bible study each Sunday. Unless we reach them, we cannot help them. Reaching is primary, basic and fundamental in this business of building bigger and better Sunday Schools.

A good program of definite visitation will help so much here. It is a must if we are to reach the most people. Many are doing it now, and many others should begin also. Try it and see what it will do.

OUR THREE CONVENTIONS

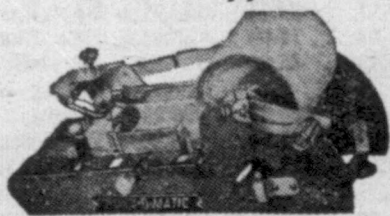

This year we are having three Sunday School conventions instead of one as heretofore. They will make it easier for more people to attend and still not have to travel so far. These are in the northern, central and southern sections of the state.

We have been very fortunate in securing some of the most outstanding men and women in the Sunday School field to come and be with us for these conventions. They are men and women who know their work, both from much study and observation as well as the practical experience. We are always eager for our people to have the best that is available. We feel that they deserve the best always.

Therefore, Brother Superintendent and Brother Pastor, tell your people about these conventions and urge them to attend the one most convenient. Make plans for their transportation where necessary. Some of them may not know they need much help, but your encouragement and planning for their attendance will get some there who would not come otherwise. Work hard to get the most out of these meetings for your own school. It will pay good dividends for a long time.

The dates and places of these conventions are as follows: New Albany, First Baptist Church, March 11; Kosciusko, First Baptist Church, March 12; Hazlehurst, First Baptist Church, March 13. Each meeting is for one full day with morning, afternoon and evening sessions beginning at 9:45 a. m., and closing at 9:00 p. m.

Let's all work and pray that these three conventions may be the best in every good way that we have ever had, and that they may help more people than any we have ever had. This can be true if we all will get to work about it in earnest and plan for the attendance.

W. C. MORGAN, Secretary

1952 CHOIR AND HYMN PLAYING
FESTIVALS COMING

Many have been making inquiry about the choir, ensemble, and hymn playing festivals for 1952, and the following words will answer the questions.

The rule sheets have been delayed as the picture of Dr. Hines Sims, Southwide Associate Music Secretary will appear on the rule sheet. The sheets are being mailed from the music office to all music directors, pianists, and organists who are listed on the mailing list of the Music Department. Any director, music leader, pastor, or person interested may secure copies of the rule sheet by writing the Music Department, Box 530, Jackson. All church music officers whose names do not appear on the music mailing list should be sent in to the Music Department.

The festivals enlisted more than 1200 in the 1951 participation. A total of 82 choirs and ensembles, and 132 hymn players entered in 1951. In 1952 more than 2000 are expected to participate in these festivals.

Two or three changes in the rules should be noted here. In the hymn playing, rule three will appear as No. 2 and No. 2 will appear as No. 3. In the choral division, any church may enter two groups, but group No. 2 should be either a cherub or carol choir. Group No. 1 should be an older group. The District rating system will use a new rating system which will give a lead to the State Festival. Write for details. All choirs, ensembles, and hymn players must participate in the District Festival in order to qualify for the State Festival. The district festivals will be held during the month of June along with the District Training Union Conventions. The State Festival will be held on November 28, 1952 in First Church, Jackson.

Dr. Hines Sims, Associate Southwide Secretary of Music will attend the State Music Festival next November 28, and will direct the MASS CHOIR SACRED CONCERT. Don't fail to take advantage of the opportunity to be in this choir.

Individual Church Music Schools

This is to introduce Rev. J. C. Pinson, Mize, who is prepared to teach church music schools at least half of his time. Bro. Pinson has taught many local church music schools is the Associational Music Director in Smith County, and is qualified to lead out in this work.

Any church desiring a music teacher for a local church school will write the Music Department, and recommendations will be made. The Music Department does not place music teachers, rather, supplies the pastor with a list of names of available music teachers, and is very happy to render this service. Write for details.

Center Terrace Church
To Observe Pastor's
Sixth Anniversary

REV. C. O. ESTES

Center Terrace Church of Canton will observe the sixth anniversary of the pastorate of Rev. C. O. Estes Sunday with two special services featuring evangelism.

At the morning hour Rev. Chester Quarles, of Jackson, Executive Secretary of the State Convention Board, will preach and at the evening hour Dr. C. E. Wilbanks, the newly-elected Director of Evangelism, will bring the message.

The past year has been a banner one in the history of the church as well as the ministry of the pastor. Mission gifts totaled over $800, with the church voting recently to double its gifts for this year to the Cooperative Program.

Forty-eight were baptized the past year and attendance in every department of the work showed an increase. Plans are now under way to finish and redecorate the building, which is valued at $70,000.

THREE STATE SUNDAY SCHOOL conventions will be held this year. The first will be March 11 at New Albany; the second March 12 at Kosciusko and the third March 13 at Hazlehurst.

—BR—

FEBRUARY 1, JACKSON COUNTY Baptist Association will suffer the loss of Wallace Harrell who has been Associational Missionary for the past several years. Brother Harrell will take up larger duties in Louisiana, in similar work. He has done a splendid work in our association. We commend him to the fellowship of Louisiana Baptists. We sincerely believe that he will be an asset to the work there. His good family has and will prove a blessing to any community where he works.—Charles L. McKay.

Indebtedness has been reduced to $8,500.

Study courses for Sunday School workers were held in November and January with a total enrollment of 84.

Mr. Estes is a member of the Convention Board and of the Board's Temperance Committee.

1535 Churches Give Through Convention Board Office January 1-December 31, 1951

Below we give you a record of each church showing the amount given to the Cooperative Program, designated gifts and total gifts, for the year 1951. 1535 churches gave to something beyond their own local causes. This is 50 more than we had last year. We thank God for this good increase in the number of churches giving. 139 churches did not give anything through the Convention Board office. Each year we find this number growing smaller as our churches are realizing the great need for a worldwide mission program and have a desire to have a part in it.

The total gifts for the year 1951 amounted to $1,573,037.21. Of this amount, $892,867.14 came as gifts to the Cooperative Program. God has greatly blessed us as a denomination for which every Baptist should be thankful. Our prayer is that every church in Mississippi will make an effort to give something beyond their local causes to Christ's worldwide mission program.

REV. LEN TURNER

Pictured above is Rev. Len Turner who was recently ordained to the full gospel ministry by the Straight Bayou Church. Rev. A. E. Lucas, his pastor, and pastor of the Louise Church in Holmes County, preached the sermon and presented the Bible. Mr. Turner is a student at Mississippi College.

MRS. C. F. STANFORD, assistant secretary reports that Rev. Clyde C. Bryan, pastor of First Baptist Church, Hattiesburg, is recovering rapidly from major surgery which he underwent on January 14. He is not expected back in his pulpit, however, for about three more weeks.

NEW ORLEANS WILL BE THE SITE of three Southern Baptist leadership conferences in February. Two groups, executive secretaries of the twenty-two co-operating states and editors of the State Baptist publications, will meet February 11-13. The third group, secretaries of the state Baptist foundations, will meet February 28-29.

DR. PAT M. NEFF, FOR MANY years president of Baylor University, died January 20 in Waco after a heart attack. He served two terms as governor of Texas, was president of the Southern Baptist Convention for several years, and was active in political and Baptist work throughout the Southwest.

MORE THAN 7000 MEN ATTENDED the recent State Brotherhood Convention in Houston, Texas, believed to be the largest Brotherhood Convention attendance on record.

McCall Creek Pastor Holds Open House

McCall Creek Church, Rev. Thomas N. Channell, pastor, has completed extensive renovation of the pastorium and the pastor's family moved in January 12. The Channells held open house Sunday, January 27, for members and friends of this church, and of his other half-time pastorate, the Lucien Baptist Church, which is nearby.

Pastor Channell is a second-year student at the New Orleans Seminary. Mrs. Channell is the former Miss Mabel Causey of Terry. They have one child, Lydia Ann, age two.

—BR—

MEMPHIS, TENN.—(BP)—BAPTISTS in the Memphis area on both sides of the Mississippi River took the lead in an organized fight to keep Arkansas politicians from establishing a race track with pari-mutual betting in West Memphis. One feature of the fight was an all-night prayer meeting in the new million-dollar First Baptist Church, R. Paul Caudill, pastor. Representatives of all protestant denominations from three states participated.

REV. THOMAS N. CHANNELL

THE FOREIGN MISSION BOARD will attempt to appoint 100 new missionaries in 1952, instead of the 75 appointments originally planned.

Tutwiler Ordains Four Deacons

First Church, Tutwiler, recently ordained the following as deacons: Rollin Weatherall, Leo Everett, W. G. Moore, and Billy Bruister. This brings the total number of deacons to twelve. Pastor James M. Bond gave the charge and delivered the message. Dr. J. S. Riser, Jr., of the First Church of Webb and deacons from Sumner, Brazil, Webb and Tutwiler participated in the service.

During the four months that Mr. Bond has been pastor at Tutwiler there have been 37 additions, 23 by baptism.

The church is beginning a revival February 3-15 in which the pastor will preach and William Lowry Compere, Jr., of Jackson, will be in charge of the music. Mrs. W. B. Bruister, chorister, will assist in the music program.

FUNERAL SERMONS AND OUTLINES (1.75) by P. B. Meyers, Charles H. Spurgeon, Albert Barnes, and others in a handbook for use in preparing funeral sermons or addresses. It includes complete sermons, condensed sermons, outlines, quotable poetry, pertinent illustrations and quotations, select hymns, and suggested themes and texts. These selections are gleaned from the writings of the sermon masters of yesteryears. Among the contributors are Meyer, Barnes, Spurgeon, Bethune, Baxter, Chrysostom, Thompson, Moody, Talmage, Thomas, Monod, Cochrane, Lyth and Guthrie. The preparation of the funeral sermon or address is one of the most exacting duties of the minister. The enveloping atmosphere of one death has certain elements in common with that of all other deaths. And these common characteristics are such as to call for

Two years ago when Rev. W. L. Blain became pastor of the Unity Mission in Pascagoula, the Mission had 27 members. Since then there have been 127 additions, 82 by baptism.

A mission of the First Church, Pascagoula, Dr. C. L. McKay, pastor, it was organized into a church on June 17, 1951 with 115 charter members. Sunday School enrolment is 130 with an average attendance of 100; Training Union enrolment is 90 with an average attendance of 70.

Outgrowing housing accommodations, they purchased a school building. Pictured above is the building which has been remodeled and enlarged making an auditorium that seats 200 people and adequate meeting places for 13 classes.

Unity Church has in its budget the Co-operative Program, Associational missions and the EVERY FAMILY Plan of the Baptist Record and the Home and Foreign Mission magazines.

50, 40 & 25 Years Ago

BY REV. J. L. BOYD, SR.
25 YEARS AGO—

Pastor L. V. Young of the Port Gibson Church had Budget Director J. S. Daton in a Stewardship study course with 25 of the class receiving diplomas and sixteen being awarded tither's seals.

Brother Wilds of the B. Y. P. U. (B. T. U.) Department reports 75 A-1 Unions for the fourth quarter of last year, including the Nelson Seniors of Mississippi College, all four Unions at Clarke, all six Unions at Blue Mountain, and all eight Unions at Woman's College. Two Unions made 100% average attendance record for the quarter—Seniors at Baptist Orphanage and Adults at Davis Memorial (Crestwood), Jackson.

Student J. H. Gunn of the Southern Baptist Seminary, Louisville, Ky., writes to inform Mississippi Baptists of the "nothing less than a miracle" hospital experience of Student Howard E. Spell. After being under the watchful care of three doctors for about two weeks, who were "puzzled to know what was the real trouble," they concluded that an operation could not be put off any longer. Every preparation was made, but when the stretcher was brought to convey him to the operating room, the doctors detected he was better, and decided that an operation was not urgent. "In thirty years of practice," said Dr. Hagan, "I have not seen anything like it." "It is surely an answer to prayer."

He came home to Mississippi, and after a short while was carried to a hospital in New Orleans where the doctors and surgeons were also baffled. Following a few weeks under observation, they eventually operated, discovering that he had a serious case of Hobson's Disease and pronounced him incurable. However, groups of friends in Mississippi and other sections of the county united in prayer for his recovery. After four months in the hospital, he returned home and eventually got well. It is the opinion of Dr. Spell and his friends, and also the doctors that his recovery was truly miraculous.

Noxubee County Organizes Associational Ex. Committee

The Noxubee County Association has adopted a successful and unique plan, one that suits their particular needs, of promoting all the causes of the work, both local and denominational.

This plan calls for a monthly supper meeting of the Executive committee of the Association, which is composed of the pastor and one or two laymen from each church.

At each meeting, which is usually held on Monday night after the second Sunday, one phase of the work is emphasized and the workers from the various churches in that phase of the work are invited to attend and discuss and make plans for the promotion of that work.

Phases being currently emphasized are Sunday School, Training Union, State Missions, Evangelism and Brotherhood, with other aspects to be taken up in the near future.

Those from the State Convention Board appearing there in recent meetings included Miss Carolyn Madison of the Sunday School Department who spoke on Sunday School work and Rev. Joe Abrams, director of Promotion, who emphasized State Missions, the Baptist Record and Training Union.

Leading in this venture has been the Executive Committee, with Rev. J. F. Stanford of Macon, Moderator, serving as chairman. All the meetings are held

OUT FROM UNDER A FIG TREE

By Kikuno Miyagi

Our Japanese Sunday School in the West Los Angeles area began patriotically, July 4, 1948, under a spreading fig tree. Eleven attended the first meeting.

Now, there are 104 members and ten Sunday School teachers. The pastor drives several times for many miles in order that children may come to Sunday School. During the week, he visits in the homes of the Sunday School children, with church bulletin written in English and in Japanese. There are many loving services he gives—assisting the sick to the doctor, acting as a translator for the Japanese people who do not understand English, and locating employment for the unemployed.

Helen Ige is our missionary in Richmond, California but her sister, Mary, is one of the teachers in our Sunday School. It is the Mission's strength to have her lead the children after her six days' work in downtown Los Angeles.

Mrs. Jeniye, mother of two daughters, also gives of her household hours to the Lord's work on Sundays.

Recently, Mr. Tokuda, father of two boys, started another class for the Junior boys. It is good to see parents among the teachers.

Joe Iwanaga, a university student, leads a group with his prayers and teaching.

Kazuho Nishida, a high school student, visits his Sunday School pupils every week, prays with his class members, and takes part in all the activities of the Mission.

Kikue Masuda is another high school student whom the Mission is fortunate to have with her free and cheerful spirit and merry heart.

The Mission has several activities on Sundays and during the week. On Sunday, the English service is held after the Sunday School and the Japanese service is held in the evening hours. Prayer and Bible studies are held twice a week—Wednesday for the English-speaking group, and Thursday for the Japanese-speaking group.

To attract more children to the Sunday School, the Mission has begun a nursery, with sixteen children enrolled.

The seed planted in this Japanese Mission has life—it first began to show fruition when six youths professed their faith and followed in baptism in April, 1950. By baptism and letter, fifteen members have been added. The families of the children who come to the Mission find that definite change takes place in the character of the children.

The time is now, to plant, water and to harvest in Christ's love. You can do all this through your prayers and your Annie Armstrong offering.

Missionary to the Migrants

One Sunday morning on "Strawberry Road" a deacon took me in his car to the roadside where the migrant people lived in trailers and tents, to pick up some children and take them to Sunday School.

Eleven were ready. As they crowded into the car I asked them, "How many of you have ever been to Sunday School before?" Only one had ever been and she said, "I have been once."

During the short strawberry season we saw ten people saved, all of them adults except one Intermediate girl.

One man, fifty-nine years old, and one woman, fifty-four, came to know Jesus as their personal Saviour. Every child said to the deacon and me, "Thank you for taking me to Sunday School."

Can you hear their call to Southern Baptists, "Come over into the migrant camps and teach us about Jesus and His love for us?" Through the Annie Armstrong Offering $15,000 will be devoted to work among the migrants. Pray for more workers among them.

MRS. NORA BELLE McGLOTHIN

On January 15, 1952, death came to claim Mrs. Nora Belle McGlothlin, and transfer her from her temporal home to that which is eternal.

She was 77 years old, having lived most of her life in Alcorn county where at an early age she became a member of Tusculumbia Baptist Church. In 1937 she became a charter member of Covenant Baptist Church in Choctaw county. This is the first natural death occurring in this church during these 15 years.

She leaves two sons, A. M. McGlothlin and I. C. McGlothlin of French Camp; one daughter, Mrs. C. F. Anglin, French Camp, with whom she had resided for many years.

She also leaves a great host of grandchildren and great-grandchildren as well as many other loved ones and friends.

Services were held at Covenant church January 16, with Rev. O. W. Sigler officiating, and interment was in French Camp cemetery.

Although it was hard to see her go, it

OUR BOYS IN BROWN AND BLUE ($5.00) by Rolf L. Veenstra is a paper bound booklet printed by the Baker Book House Grand Rapids, Michigan. The author was ordained the day news was received that Hitler had invaded Poland. And his entire ministry has been spent under the shadow of war. A vital phase of his ministry has been writing letters to boys in the service and this booklet is the consequence of such correspondence. The author says in the preface, "It has been strikingly noticeable throughout this correspondence that certain recurrent themes, like poignant passages in a symphony, keep cropping up. Fellows from all the several services, differing in age by as much as twenty years, fighting on fronts that are separated by half a world, all give voice to the same sentiments, ask the same questions. In a sense, then, this little book may be said to have been written by our boys themselves rather than for them." The chapter headings are: What About Swearing?, What About Sex?, What About Drinking?, What About Gambling?, Why the Bible?, Why Chapel Attendance?, Why Christian Companions?, and Faith for These Times. A PHARISEE AND A REPENTANT WOMAN

Bible Text: Luke 7:36-50.

I. A CONTRAST OF SINNERS

All sinners are not the same. Sometimes they differ in station, sometimes in wealth, sometimes in position, sometimes in the degree in which they are sinners, sometimes in their attitude toward their sins, sometimes in the care they take as to what God thinks of their wickedness.

Here are two people both of whom are sinners, but there are differences aplenty. Simon the Pharisee was wealthy; the sinner-woman was poor. Simon the Pharisee was, no doubt, quite a socialite; the sinner-woman was a social outcast. Simon the Pharisee was a cultured gentleman; the sinner-woman was just another of the common herd, the ignorant accursed. Simon was smug in his self-content; the sinner-woman was miserable in her self-condemnation. Simon the Pharisee was contemptuous of Jesus; the sinner-woman was respectful, reverential, worshipful.

Both of them had previously come into contact with Jesus. We may, I think, be very sure that the woman had somewhere seen and heard Jesus. Who she was we do not know, but we do know that she was not Mary of Magdala, and she was most certainly not Mary of Bethany. But whatever her name, wherever her home, she had somewhere, somewhere perhaps from the fringes of the crowd to which He was speaking, seen and heard Jesus.

Even from a point so remote from Him, she had been attracted by the winsome purity of His character as exhibited in His speech, His benign countenance, and attitude of sympathy for the suffering, sighing, sorrowing, sinning multitudes in whose behalf He came to minister and to give His life a ransom. The woman had no doubt heard others of her class discuss Him, and her heart had yearned toward something in Him better than aught she had ever known. But her respect, reverence, love, adoration, all were dumb in her bosom. She did not know the cultured speech with which to make her high regard for Him known either to herself or to others, least of all, she no doubt thought, to Him. But one thing there was which she could do.

One thing she possessed of real worth, "an alabaster cruise of ointment." Other things of slight value she may have possessed, but this was, of her earthly possessions, the item of greatest value. It is the item which people of every station always keep as a tribute to the one whom they supremely love. Love had led her Lord to her, and her heart responded with an answering love that drew her with invisible, gently constraining cords that bound her to His loving heart in an enfolding, nothing-withholding devotion that found joy in giving all of the possession most precious. She performed for Him a service and the deed she hid has spoken in accents trumpet-tongued down all the running centuries since.

Now look for a moment at Sir Satisfied! We are here at a period in the ministry of our Lord when the open break between Him and the Pharisees had not yet come. Sir Satisfied could still invite the Teacher home for dinner and the Teacher could still in propriety accept the invitation. He indubitably knew the sneering spirit behind the invitation and that there was not a single decent motive in the scoffing heart of the canting hypocrite who issued it. But the grace

THE CONCORDIA PUBLISHING House, 3558 South Jefferson Avenue, St. Louis 18, Missouri, has recently published a paper bound book entitled THE BEGINNING ACCORDING TO THE BOOK OF GENESIS ($1.25) by J. M. Weidenschilling. It is important that we be thoroughly acquainted with the first book of the Bible, because it gives us the facts regarding God, the world, man, sin and evil, and redemption for sin. It is our only reliable source. Each chapter of Genesis is discussed and there are questions for study and discussion at the close of each chapter. Order from the publishers or from the Baptist Book Store.

of our loving Lord makes it possible for Him to enter and for a while abide in some places where you and I would be exceedingly uncomfortable. In order to point his slight regard for Jesus, Sir Satisfied, the Pharisee, omitted, the most common courtesies usually accorded a guest in an Eastern home; the foot bath provided, the anointing of the head, the kiss of peace. Sir Simon Satisfied, the Pharisee was rude, uncouth, crude, disgusting, slyly, designedly, palpably insulting. His opportunity for doing the part of a gracious host, for knowing the real character of his royal Guest was almost measurelessly better than that of the sinner-woman. Hence his guilt was greater than hers, his sin by far the more heinous.

II. THE LORD OF LOVE CASTS JUDGMENT

His judgment took into account the contrasting conduct of the two. The woman had seen herself a sinner, because she had seen Him. From of old this one thing has been necessary, and this one thing has been sufficient. From Isaiah's "Look unto me and be ye saved, all the ends of the earth" (Is. 45:22), even from his personal look upon the glory of the Lord (Is. 6:1-5) by which alone he became convicted of his sin, down through John the Baptist's "Behold" (gaze at) "the Lamb of God" (John 1:36), and numerous other passages of Scripture that prescribe this as the convicting action.

No man or woman can look once understandingly upon the Lord and ever be the same again. This poor woman had looked and now she came, contrite, repentant, loving. She came to Jesus to give expression of her love for Him, and she expressed her love in a gift. People do things for Jesus when they love Him and because they love Him. And so far as I know, that is the only reason acceptable to Him that anyone should do anything for Him. If you love Him, you will say so: if you love Him you will do so. So far as we know, the lips of this woman did not frame the words, "I love you, Lord," but her tears and her hands and her hair in her hands all did the words in language clarion-clear.

And Sir Simon the Pharisee sneered at this aid said within himself, "This man, if he were a prophet, would have perceived who and what manner of woman this is that toucheth Him, that she is a sinner" (Luke 7:39). "Think you the Lord did not perceive the thought in this man's heart? The muddy mind of Simon was crystal clear to Jesus. Man looketh on the outward part, but the Lord looketh upon the heart. So the darkened heart of the Pharisee was light to Him who saw it in the bats of envy and jealousy and dawning hatred.

By no word or deed had Simon shown any evidence of having really seen Jesus at all. His love for the Lord of life was non-existent; therefore his condemnation in words that were scathing in their severity of judgment upon the conduct of the unfriendly and the steel-cold heart of the unloving. This man and his party have not yet determined to kill the Lord of life, but their enmity is taking root, and He sees.

NASHVILLE, TENN. —(BP)— TWO more churches have joined the long list of Southern Baptist churches with budgets of more than $200,000. Second Ponce de Leon Baptist Church, Atlanta, Ga., has oversubscribed a budget of $293,370. The figure has already reached $297,722 and more than $300,000 is expected, says Dr. Monroe F. Swilley, Jr., pastor, South Main Church, Houston, Texas, with a $244,800 budget, agreed that all subscriptions over the budget would go to missions and already pledges have passed $274,300. Pastor E. H. Westmoreland credits the missions emphasis with the enthusiastic over-subscription of the largest budget ever adopted by the church. Smith Named Louisiana Secretary

ALEXANDRIA, La. —(BP) Dr. R. Houston Smith, pastor of the First Baptist Church in Pineville, has been elected executive secretary of the Louisiana Baptist Convention. He has not yet announced his decision.

If he accepts the secretaryship, he will succeed the late Dr. W. H. Knight, secretary since 1941, who also once served as pastor of the Pineville church.

Editor's Note: Mississippians will remember Dr. Smith as a former pastor of the Collins church.

Concerning The Deaconship

By Rev. H. J. Rushing

The Deacon of a New Testament Church is the helper of the pastor, the people, and the Lord. He is to help the pastor to stay, the people to serve, and the Lord to advance His cause in all the world.

The Deacon is a steward and in faithfulness will occupy the place given him to the glory of the Lord so long as the Church shall leave him in the place to which the Church by vote elected him. The Church by its voice may at any time declare him active or otherwise.

The Deacon is to guard the pulpit recognizing that it is the pastor's until the Holy Spirit places him as overseer of a flock elsewhere. He will seek to protect pastor and people from those who would come in to undermine the pastor's work, weaken the program he has laid out, and take the place in the affections of the community which belong to the God placed under-shepherd.

The Deacons, as the Pastor, must have convictions based upon the Word of God and including the principles set forth therein for belief and practice in New Testament Churches. It must be within his ability to put aside personal likes and dislikes keeping in mind that his office came into being as a group of peace makers with the task of strengthening strained fellowship.

Troubled seas are created in churches by deacons and members being unwilling to let the New Testament be the law of life for the Church. Ignoring this groups of deacons tend to become "boards of directors" when the only director of a New Testament Church is the Holy Spirit working through the congregation. There is a lots of difference between a servant and a boss and the word "Deacon" in its simple scriptural usage indicates a servant.

In the Deaconship the right kind of men count as perhaps no where else save in those called of God as under-shepherds to oversee the flock. Here nothing is so important as character and attitudes. What a man is and how he thinks will determine the kind of deacon he will make. To this the Bible gives ample attention and we do well to take heed thereto.

Deacons who meet the qualifications of the Scriptures will be an honor to the Lord, to the Church, and to others set apart for this all important place of service. More they will be honored by the Lord, loved by the pastor who needs them so much, and respected by the Church in which they are privileged to serve. Otherwise they will become the laughing stock of the church, a hindrance to the pastor, and stumbling stones to those outside the church.

For a time New Testament Churches functioned in a glorious way without deacons as we know them today. But then there came a day when it was recognized that the pastors needed help so that they could give more time to first things without other needy matters being at all neglected. In this way was born that which we look upon as the Deaconship in our Baptist churches today. But, alas, how different is the conception of their place and duties as recognized by so many in this age.

Let our churches look out men—the right kind of men—men who will be helpers to pastors and churches, and let them set these apart for service as they are needed. Then let our deacons, in the light of the New Testament, give themselves like Aaron and Hur to the holding up of the hands of the pastors and much will be done to make our churches powerful in

Ministerial Ethics

III. As Regards the Public in General

The pastor spends more of his hours of service outside the pulpit than he does in it. He is in his study in visitation, in his home, and in contact with the public in general. The following are points of good ethics:

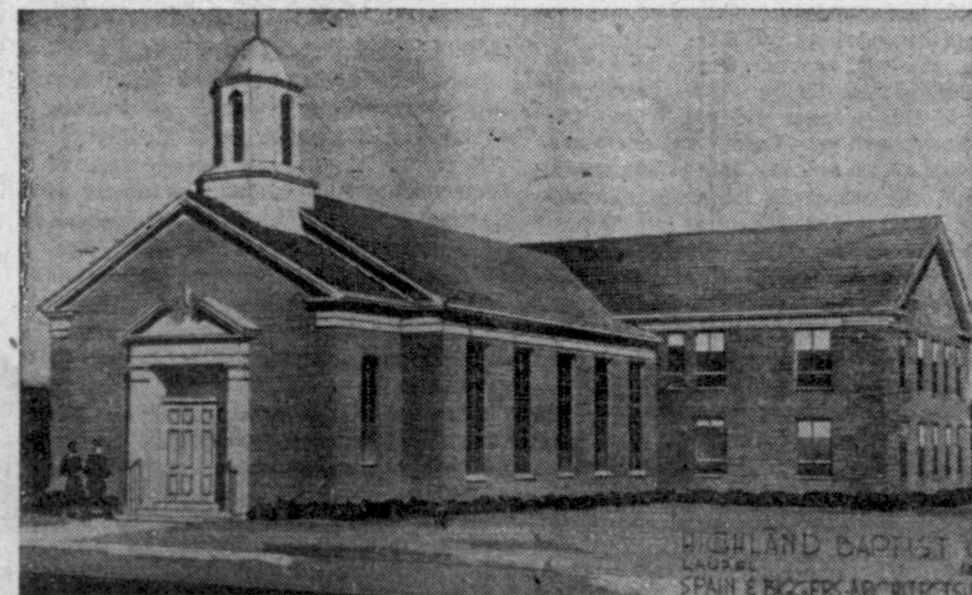

1. A minister should at all times and in every place be a gentleman as well as a preacher. In dealing with his office force and staff in general, he should keep himself morally clean and exercise sympathetic understanding and patience. If he is a slave driver and a hard, unbearable taskmaster in this respect, how can he deal honestly with the stewardship of the Gospel?

2. In visitation the preacher has to keep up the same guards that he must exercise at all times. The ideal guard is for a preacher never to go inside a home when only the lady is there. If reasonably aged children or several ladies are present it is different. One of the best practices for a pastor in general visitation is to have someone go with him. He must in all his visiting guard against his language and conduct.

3. A preacher must come into contact with the public and its businesses. Here as elsewhere he must do his best to keep himself beyond reproach. "I must do what another does to win him, when he is doing wrong," is a false assumption born of the devil himself. A preacher must, as much as in him lies, refuse to patronize disreputable businesses. When he enters, at any time, the door of a disreputable business it must be known that he is there for observation and witnessing, not as a patron. He must make it a point to do as little business with any concern on Sunday as he possibly can.

4. A preacher, in his business transactions, must be honest, not a cheater, an age demanding powerful churches, churches united in devotion to God and in a great cooperative effort for Him.

Pictured above is the architect's drawing of the first unit of the Highland Baptist Church, Laurel, now near completion.

This initial unit will include a 300 seating capacity auditorium, 21 Sunday School rooms, an office and pastor's study, kitchen, baptistry, choir loft, and rest rooms.

Modern and up-to-date in every mandeceiver, or schemer; in short not a Jacob. It is far from being commendable for a preacher to demand a ministerial discount in business. If a business advertises such a practice and invites such a business, that is different. It is not ethical to demand it. And above everything else, a preacher ought to be, to the exercise of his last ounce of energy, a debt paying preacher.

IV. As Regards His Home Life

1. In his home the pastor should strive to be the sort of husband and parent he encourages his listeners to be. It is a known fact, however, that the pastor faces more difficulty in this respect than do many men. He and his wife are so often required to be on the run, leaving the child to shift for itself. It is too easy for the pastor's wife to be called upon to be both wife and mother, and assistant pastor. This is most unfortunate and rather than helping the pastor adds problem to problem. When a woman has been wife and mother in the preacher's home she has done a one-woman service. A preacher is not wrong to expect this and this alone of his wife.

2. It would be different if it could be explained to our people that preachers are sometimes made to be most unhappy and anxious. They go to their homes from service after service where they meet taxation and opposition. They spend their energies trying to meet engagements and work out plans for a successful program to lead unconcerned and indifferent people. When they arrive home they want to find a wife who has not been through all that they have to make her feel like they feel.

When something has been said in regard to a preacher's conduct toward his fellow ministers, toward the people whom he seeks to lead, toward the public in general, and toward his family; it is not out of order to emphasize in this closing word that a preacher ought not to be a showman parading in special garb for garb's sake his religion. It is not necessary to carry a big Bible everywhere one goes. Far better is it to have the Word in the heart, the character in the soul, and the testimony on the countenance.

THE TEXAS BAPTIST CONVENTION has created a new department of Direct Missions and Promotion. Floyd B. Chaffin is the secretary.

Calvary, Jackson To Dedicate Elevator

Calvary Baptist Church, Jackson, has made another step toward "providing for every member of every family" in the installation of a new elevator for the use of all who cannot use the stairway from the ground floor to the sanctuary which is located on the second floor level.

The dedicatory service for the new elevator will be held Sunday morning, February 3 at 10:50 o'clock. Mrs. H. M. King, wife of a former pastor, will speak and Dr. W. A. Hewitt will deliver the dedicatory message.

All members and friends of Calvary are invited to attend the service.

EVANGELIST BILLY GRAHAM, AT the half-way mark in his campaign in Washington, has reported 1332 converts out of a total attendance of 87,700.

WASHINGTON, D. C.—(RNS)—A controversy over the seating capacity of Washington's National Guard Armory was resolved in favor of Evangelist Billy Graham here. Commissioners of the District of Columbia lifted the 5,310 seating capacity of the auditorium to 8,000 for the second week of Dr. Graham's crusade under pressure from members of congress. (Editor's Note: One argument made in Graham's favor was the fact that the rule was often waived for athletic events.)

FRIENDS OF DR. R. P. BUTLER, former pastor at Wiggins and now pastor at Winborne Avenue Church in Baton Rouge, Louisiana, will be glad to know that during his first year in this field the church membership has increased from 483 to 602 with 23 awaiting baptism; Sunday School enrollment from 596 to 748. This year's budget was increased by $9,441 and totals $33,034.

WAKE FOREST COLLEGE MEDICAL Alumni Association is undertaking to underwrite one-third of the $3,000,000 needed in cash and commitments by next July to claim the conditional gift of $2,000,000 which has been offered to the college. Dr. C. N. Peeler, Charlotte, has given the initial $100,000 to this program.
